Banyan Wins All-American Honors In National Collegiate Competition

BRIGHAM Young University's 1956 yearbook, the Banyan, has received All-American rating in competition with colleges and universities throughout the country.

The Banyan received the highest score in its class for colleges of 7,000 or more enrollment.

John Marlow, Blackfoot, Ida., was editor of the book and is also editing the 1957 Banyan.

Last All-American rating by the Banyan was in the early 1940s, according to Dr. Oliver R Smith, publications chairman. The BYU yearbooks have consistently been rated First Class, however, which is the rating below All-American.

ASSOCIATED Collegiate Press judges said the book makes "the reader feel he knows your university and your campus."

The 456 page Banyan was produced at a cost of $30,000, Marlow said, which was raised through sales to students and page sales to student organizations. The book received 105 points on the judging sheet for "superior management," handled by Steve Barrett, Berkeley, Calif., and Val Parke, Carey, Ida.

ALSO responsible for the production of the book, Marlow said, were Yvonne Anderson, Richfield, assistant editor; Bob Pratt, Denver, Colo., layout and art editor; Wallace M. Barrus, Gooding, Ida., photo editor; and Don Woodward, Provo, copy editor, on the executive staff.

Approximately 60 students worked during the year to produce the volume, he added, each averaging about an hour each day.

BYU's book was the "largest in the conference, and one of the largest in the country," Marlow proudly stated.

The entire executive staff of the book has returned, with the exception of Woodward, who is filling a missien in Finland, to help in the production of the 1957 book.

Position of copy editor is still open to applicants, Marlow said, and that students interested in the post should contact him.

All-Freshman Show Slated At Assembly

All-freshmen talent will present Tuesday's frosh assembly at 11 a.m. in the Smith Fieldhouse.

The production will be staged around the theme of the humorous side of the registration chaos. The entire show has been written, directed and produced by the freshman class.

Marilyn Cooper and Colleen Brown are directors and the script was written by Ray Parkinson.

This assembly will mark the debut before the Brigham Young University studentbody of freshman performers such as Lee Workman, pianist; Bob Asper, harmonica player, Carol Wilcox, Sonja Leonard and Chyleen Bacon, girls' modern dance trio; Shirley Harrison, vocalist, and many others.

The freshman assembly is traditionally sponsored by the senior class.

President Wilkinson in Hospital With Heart Ailment Indications

President Ernest L Wilkinson is expected to be confined to Salt Lake City's Latter-day Saint Hospital for a period of rest and convalescence.

Pres. Wilkinson was hospitalized Friday after a medical examination disclosed he had a heart ailment.

According to a statement by Dr. Harvey L. Taylor, Dr. William E. Berrett and Dr. William F. Edwards, members of the Brigham Young University presidency, Pres. Wilkinson's "condition has continued to be satisfactory, but will necessitate an additional period of rest and convalescence."

He had been scheduled to fly to Washington, D. C, on a business trip Monday.

It was reported that Pres. Wilkinson had not been feeling well for several days.

No immediate announcement was made by the school presidency concerning assumption of administrative responsibilities during the president's absence and recuperation.

This announcement is expected Tuesday.

Pres. Wilkinson's hospitalization came during the semi-annual conference of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints in Salt Lake City.

Speech Tryouts Slated

Tryouts for the new Brigham Young University production, "The Male Animal," are open to the entire studentbody.

The comedy, dealing with college life, is the premiere production for the Arena or Circle Theatre.

James Thurber and Elliott Nugent authored the caustic play which deals with such aspects of university life as football, Communism, academic freedom, biology and professors.

Auditions for any aspiring thespians are being held Tuesday at 7:30 p.m in College Hall.

Interviewer-Speaker Schedules Foreign Service Career Talks

A U. S. Foreign Service officer will visit Brigham Young University October 15.

Joseph O. Zurhellen will be on campus to present to interested students information on career opportunities in the U. S. Foreign Service and to explain the Foreign Service office selection process, according to Dr Stewart L. Grow, Political Science Department chairman.

Meetings at which Zurhellen will speak will be held at 10 a.m. in Room 312, McKay and at 1 p.m. in Room 225 Eyring Science Center.

Interested students may attend his meetings at these hours and may arrange to talk with him personally at other hours of the day by contacting Dale Valentine in the Placement Bureau office, Student Service Center.

It has been announced by the Department of State that a written examination for the foreign service will be held Dec 8. Candidates must be between 20 and 31 years of age and a citizen of the U. S. for nine years.

Deadline for applications of the one-day exam is set in the Board of Examiners, Washington, D. C., office before midnight Oct. 26.

Successful candidates will be appointed as officers to serve in any of the 288 embassies, legations and consulates abroad, as well as in Washington. Starting salaries range from $4,700 to $5,350.

Queen Servers Needed

Men are needed to serve refreshments to Homecoming Queen finalists.

Any men interested in serving at the reception for Homecoming Queen finalists are requested to leave their names with John Wadsworth. He may be reached at FR 3-7189.

The reception is scheduled Wednesday from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m.

Lost Items Recovered

Items such as dishtowels and tee shirts left at Provo Court may be picked up in the Student Coordinator's office, basement of the Student Service Center, any time this week.

Hundreds Available

Grants Listed for Study Abroad

HUNDREDS of attractive scholarships to universities abroad will be given to American university students during the school year just beginning.

These scholarships are tenable at universities all around the world and are open to Brigham Young University students as well as others. However, the deadline for application for most of these scholarships is October 30, according to Dr. Edward L. Hart, Fulbright, Rhodes and Marshall adviser.

THIS YEAR Fulbright scholarships are available for study in Australia, Austria, Belgium-Luxemborg, Burma, Chile, Denmark, Finland, France, Germany, Greece, India, Italy, Japan, Netherlands, New Zealand, Norway, Philippines and Yugoslavia. Applications for the United Kingdom are made through the Institute of International Education.

In addition, Buenos Aires Convention scholarships are open to most South American countries. Applicants must be U. S. citizens, must have a master's degree before the beginning of next year, and have a knowledge of the language of the country they wish to go to.

IN THE PAST, BYU students have done well in this competition.

Last year, Melva Ann Smith of the Language Department received a scholarship to Austria, where she is now studying.

Fulbright scholarships pay transportation to and from the country of the scholarship plus sufficient funds to pay all expenses and five cents per mile to and from the port of departure. Scholarships are usually only awarded to single persons. However, the Oxford University England grant is awarded to married or single, men or women.

The Rhodes Scholarship is awarded to men only and is tenable at Oxford University England for a period of 3,000 sterling, close to $9,000 per year, for two years with a third year renewal.

APPLICANTS MUST be men under 25 by Oct. 1, 1957, and must have a junior standing in the U. S.

Thirty-two of these scholarships are given every year to United States, and four are given in the district to Utah belongs. During the past two years BYU students have been about as often represented from Utah institutions, Dr. Hart said.

Marshall Scholarships are given by the British government to United States citizens as a gift of gratitude for the Marshall Plan. Men and women are eligible for single grants. They are under 28 and have had three years of college. Duration of the scholarships are for two years of study at any British university plus a cash award of 550 ($1,540) a year for living expenses (married students receive more) and tourist class transportation to and from the United Kingdom.

Inquiries should be directed to Dr Hart, 239 McKay B

2 BYU Engineers Participate In Boeing Summer Research

Prof Davis Bartholomew, Electrical Engineering Department, and Asst prof W. H. Wiser, Chemical Engineering Department, recently completed a two months' assignment at the Boeing Airplane Company in Seattle.

The two Brigham Young University faculty members were members of a group of 61 educators who participated in the Boeing Summer Program for college faculty members.

Prof. Bartholomew worked with the aerodynamics staff assisting in the development of wind tunnel instrument techniques.

Research on fuels used in turbo jet engines was the work of Prof. Wiser. He was associated with the power plant staff.

Both faculty members were given a chance to acquaint themselves with some of the latest industrial developments in their fields and to study the activities, facilities, philosophy and problems of the company.

Ivy League Togs Economical, Practical, Stylish

by Leanne Walker

TAU BRIGHAM sayeth Ivy is the social set to be seen in—and this fall's pseudo-studied creeds and tattoos say roll to a campus ravage in the all new Ivy league look.

Ivy league goes everywhere; no classes on that important movie date, or to Friday night's football game. No wiry style-wise but economy wise, the new Look has wound its way into the fashion world. Polished cotton jackets for the gals and sweaters for the gentlemen combine with economical ease to make the ivy look.

TOPPING THE pseudo-social set in sportswear is the classic Bermuda shorts, featuring the Ivy league back initiation short shirts for the male wearers and short blouses for the females follow the new trend with a spotlight to be put on the new rave the three button ivy look Long sleeve as well as short sleeve tailored blouses dominate the scene.

Ivy League togs can be seen on campus in the form of sweaters and skirts, or in the gaily striped cotton shirts. Bermuda shorts are also in order for campus wear.

Ivy League styles are also in order for casual and sport dress.

When the stinging fingers of autumn creep on to the campus, the problem of what to wear will already have been solved, for Ivy League coeds in dark wools and flannels to keep out the coldest winter weather.

Plaid and striped washable woolens prove to be just what the budget-wise misters and misses have been wishing for. Ivy league sweaters in dark colored stripes complete the wardrobe of every Mister BYU.

PERHAPS YOU have not yet been oriented to the tradition of ivy league styles. The smart fashionable buckle just below the waistline is the back forever tells your marital status. If you have already found your prince charming, and wedding bells are chiming in the distance, the sub should be buckled up, marking you off-limits to all PDB's (All Prospective Date Bait).

NOW IF YOU'RE just waiting for the gorgeous fellow in your theology class to ask you to the dance, be sure you're unbuckled and attend the WHBA's (Waiting To Be Asked).

The door to the style world is open to you; holding the door open is a fashion-wise debut mate, wearing—you guessed it —ivy league.

Mountaineer Club Schedules Skiing, Climbing Activities

The first meeting of the Alpine Club, Timpanogos night, was inspiring for all the mountaineers at Brigham Young University, reports Wally Abersold, president.

"This year should prove to be as successful as previous years," he said, "we had told. Last year's activities consisted of climbing Timpanogos in October, skiing on all the popular runs, participating in the Mt. Timpanogos Snow Carnival, a cross country trek from Alta to Brighton ski area, and many hikes.

An overnight hike up King's Peak has been planned. A base camp will be set up on the lower flanks of the 13,500 ft peak. All hikers have been asked to pack their own food and sleeping bag.

Student Cooks Should Plan, Prepare Speedy, Thrifty, Nutritious Meals

by Deanna Barnum

COLLEGE students who must prepare their meals should eat This article is planned to make foods edible, simple to prepare and yet easy on the budget

The simple can-to-pan method does not supply the basic seven which keeps roses in the cheeks.

To save food nutrients use a small amount of water and low heat when you cook.

DON'T BOTHER to cook fruit and vegetables. Raw produce provides variety in menus, additional exercise for the jaws, plus the required food nutrients.

A suggested menu for a tasty meal this week is:

Potato Corn Chowder
Hamburger Steaks
Cabbage and Banana Salad
Bread and Butter
Milk

Directions for four servings of corn chowder are: Cube four small potatoes, dice one small onion, cut four slices bacon in small pieces, add to one cup water and cook until well done. Mix three tablespoons flour with one cup cold corn. Stir corn and three cups milk into the first mixture, heat and serve

MAKE hamburger steaks will plain groundbeef patties and n onion. Dip each patty into plain flour, then into a mixture of one egg and one-half cup milk which have been well beaten. Finally dip the patties into crushed cereal or dry bread crumbs and fry.

Wyoming, Utes Appear League Title Chasers

The University of Wyoming loomed Monday as the only team capable of giving Utah a run for the money in the Sky-line Conference.

The Cowpokes meet New Mexico Saturday and host the Utah powerhouse on Oct. 20. Wyoming beat the Utes 23 to 17 a year ago in Salt Lake City and will have the home field advantage this year but the Utah meangruder has been tearing up its Skyline foes.

Utah stays at home next Saturday against a weak Denver team while the Cowboys battle the NMU Lobos at Laramie. Utah State's Farmers will be at Montana in the only other conference game.

Brigham Young is idle while Colorado Aggies will be playing a non-league game against a rough Colorado University team at Boulder.

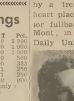
Fullback Gains Back Of Week In Utah Game

Booming defensive play aided by a tremendous amount of heart places Scott Farmer, junior fullback from Great Falls, Mont., in the spotlight as the Daily Universe's Back of the Week.



Farmer

Chunky Farmer was a defensive giant all night at the Cougars vainly attempted to halt Utah's offensive juggernaut last Friday. Time and again Farmer moved up from his line backer's position to nail speedy Redskin backs. Also Farmer posed a constant offensive threat with drives up the middle.

Not too sizeable as far as line backers go at 178 lbs. Farmer displayed plenty of know-how and agility in spotting breaks in the Cat forward wall.

Farmer displayed lenth of strength last year and with two years of grid wars behind him could develop into a full-fledged star next year. He is a marketing major

That's Rich

by Rich Hall

THE FOOTBALL game is long over, and Brigham Young University lost. The favored University of Utah came down to Provo, and did just what most people thought they would by racking up another win over the Cougars.

But the 41-6 score hides an important fact, important that is to BYU fans. For three quarters the Cats played terrific ball. The Redskins didn't run away with the ball game until the Cougars began to run out of gas.

NO BRIGHAM Young supporter need feel ashamed of his team's performance last Friday night. The Cats fought all the way. It was an old BYU bagaboo, lack of team depth, that finally made the difference.

For the first time this season the Cougars genterated what looked like a running game. There were no long runs, but a lot of good short gains. It was the best Cat ground display to date. Twice the BYU team elected to gamble on fourth down with a yard or so to go, and twice they picked up the necessary yardage for the first down on the ground.

THE UTES just about cleared their bench, running in 40 players during the game. The Cats used 32 men.

The Cougars are looking better and better as each weekend goes by. Coach Harold Kopp is keeping well to his plan to field an improved team every game.

Don't get the idea that the football season is over just because we dropped the Utah game. There is a lot of football to be played yet, including the Utah State game. The ball team will be working hard looking for that first conference win, and with a weekend off will have a lot of time to get back into condition for the Skyline wars.

MONTANA IS THE next opponent on the schedule with the game to be played at Missoula. The Grizzlies are currently in the Skyline basement, and will probably not be able to improve that status much before playing the Cats as they meet Utah State this week.
